

Weather Report
04 October 2019

South Africa - Weather

- Free State and neighboring areas will remain dry or critically dry during the next two weeks
- Much of the rain that occurs will be lost to evaporation
- Winter wheat will remain dormant or semi-dormant in most locations
- A significant boost in rain will be needed during the second half of the month to support better wheat prospects
- Western Cape will also remain dry in the coming weeks
- Timely rain will be needed later this month to improve winter wheat prospects
- Temperatures will be near to slightly above average through next Thursday

DISCLAIMER: This report has been prepared by GroCapital Financial Services Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of AFGRI Operations Limited. It is provided to you for information purposes only. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI hereby certify that the views expressed in this report were obtained from sources which GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI consider to be reliable. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI do not make any representations or give any guarantees or warranties, expressed or implied, as to the correctness, accuracy or completeness of the report. Neither GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI, nor any affiliate, nor any of their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, shall assume any liability for any losses arising from errors or omissions in the opinions, forecasts or information, irrespective of whether there has been any negligence by GroCapital and AFGRI, their affiliate, or their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, regardless of whether such damages were foreseen or unforeseen. The information contained in this report is confidential and may be subject to legal privilege. This report is not intended to not should it be taken to create any legal relations or contractual relations.

United States of America - Weather

U.S. MIDWEST: Additional frost and a few light freezes will occur in eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota Friday and again Monday. Some crops are still immature and some damage is possible in the pockets where temperatures are coldest, but widespread and significant damage to crops still does not appear likely. Today's forecast is wetter overall than what was advertised Wednesday with three rounds of well-organized rain during the next two weeks and although most of the rain should not be heavy, fieldwork will be sluggish in areas that have become wet this week while harvesting should advance well in most other areas.

U.S. DELTA AND SOUTHEAST: The Delta and the Southeast will see an increase in showers today into Monday with some additional rain Oct. 10-12 but overall, harvesting should still advance well during the next two weeks with a slower pace than what has occurred recently. Rain through Oct. 12 will be beneficial for winter wheat planting, but most of the rain will not be great enough to induce a lasting increase in soil moisture and additional rain will be needed soon.

DISCLAIMER: This report has been prepared by GroCapital Financial Services Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of AFGRI Operations Limited is provided to you for information purposes only. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI hereby certify that the views expressed in this report were obtained from sources which GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI consider to be reliable. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI do not make any representations or give any guarantees or warranties, expressed or implied, as to the correctness, accuracy or completeness of the report. Neither GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI, nor any affiliate, nor any of their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, shall assume any liability for any losses arising from errors or omissions in the opinions, forecasts or information, irrespective of whether there has been any negligence by GroCapital and AFGRI, their affiliate, or their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, regardless of whether such damages were foreseen or unforeseen. The information contained in this report is confidential and may be subject to legal privilege. This report is not intended to not should it be taken to create any legal relations or contractual relations.

South America - Weather

BRAZIL: Much of Brazil remains in need of rain to improve conditions for summer crop planting and western areas will see an improving trend through late next week while more significant rain falls on the south with Goias into Bahia missing much of the rain.
ARGENTINA: Argentina will see little rain of significance through next Thursday leaving many areas in need of rain to improve conditions for summer crop planting and winter wheat development.
 o Some light shower activity will occur across Argentina and the moisture will be welcome, but likely too light and poorly distributed to have much of an impact on soil conditions.

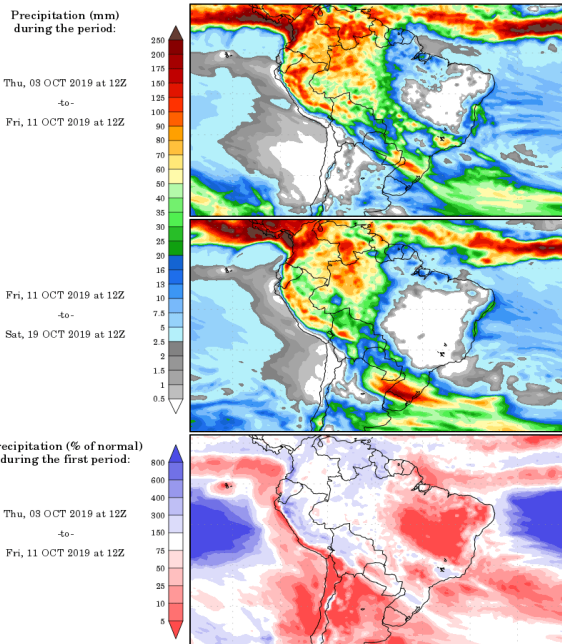

ARGENTINA
Total Precipitation (mm)
September 22 - 28, 2019

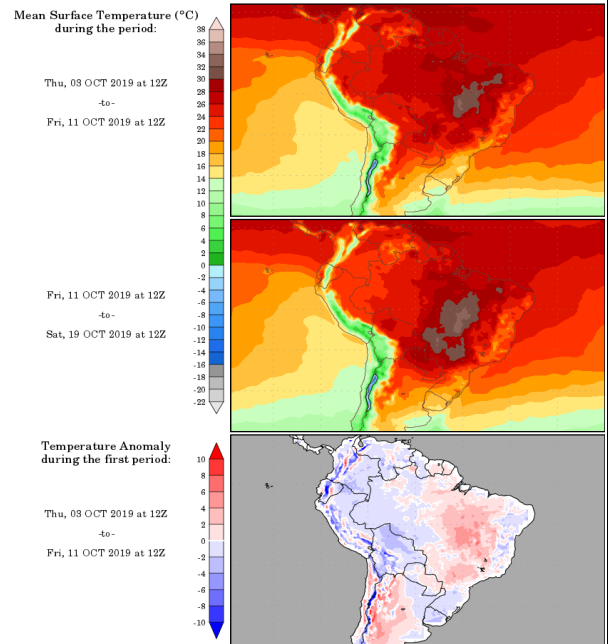

-2.0° -1.0° 0° 1.0° 2.0° 3.0° 4.0° (C)

Precipitation Forecasts

Temperature Forecasts

DISCLAIMER: This report has been prepared by GroCapital Financial Services Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of AFGRI Operations Limited is provided to you for information purposes only. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI hereby certify that the views expressed in this report were obtained from sources which GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI consider to be reliable. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI do not make any representations or give any guarantees or warranties, expressed or implied, as to the correctness, accuracy or completeness of the report. Neither GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI, nor any affiliate, nor any of their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, shall assume any liability for any losses arising from errors or omissions in the opinions, forecasts or information, irrespective of whether there has been any negligence by GroCapital and AFGRI, their affiliate, or their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, regardless of whether such damages were foreseen or unforeseen. The information contained in this report is confidential and may be subject to legal privilege. This report is not intended to not should it be taken to create any legal relations or contractual relations.

Europe, New Zealand and Australia - Weather

EUROPE: Frequent rounds of precipitation will bolster soil moisture conditions throughout the European Continent during the next week to ten days. The only exceptions will be southwest into west-central Europe as well as pockets of southeast Europe. Some dryness concerns will continue in parts of west and central France as well as Hungary into parts of Serbia.

AUSTRALIA: Restricted precipitation and drought will continue over New South Wales into Queensland the next ten days to two weeks. Winter crop development will remain poor and stress will continue to grow and production potentials of cotton, sorghum, corn and other crops are declining in some areas.

o With that said, rounds of precipitation will return to Western Australia as well as Victoria into east New South Wales this week. Precipitation will be limited to the southwest Thursday into Friday with a few showers lingering into the weekend.

DISCLAIMER: This report has been prepared by GroCapital Financial Services Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of AFGRI Operations Limited is provided to you for information purposes only. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI hereby certify that the views expressed in this report were obtained from sources which GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI consider to be reliable. GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI do not make any representations or give any guarantees or warranties, expressed or implied, as to the correctness, accuracy or completeness of the report. Neither GROCAPITAL AND AFGRI, nor any affiliate, nor any of their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, shall assume any liability for any losses arising from errors or omissions in the opinions, forecasts or information, irrespective of whether there has been any negligence by GroCapital and AFGRI, their affiliate, or their respective officers, directors, partners or employees, regardless of whether such damages were foreseen or unforeseen. The information contained in this report is confidential and may be subject to legal privilege. This report is not intended to not should it be taken to create any legal relations or contractual relations.