BDLive - The rand broke a three-day winning streak on Monday, while leisure-focused stocks, retailers and banks led losses on the JSE, as SA moved back to alert level 4 lockdown.

On Sunday evening President Cyril Ramaphosa announced SA would move to the stricter restrictions until July 11, as the country grapples with a third wave of the Covid-19 pandemic that threatens to be worse than the first two combined. Global shares began the week with a cautious start on Monday as Asian and European markets fell, after a spike in coronavirus cases across Asia at the weekend hurt investor sentiment, while oil hovered at about two-and-a-half-year highs.

MSCI's all country world index, which tracks shares across 49 countries, was down 0.1% after the open in Europe. Stock markets across the world rebounded last week and were in touching distance of record highs as concern ebbed about future tightening from the US Federal Reserve.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold prices slipped to a one-week low on Monday, weighed down by a bounce in the dollar and mixed signals from the US Federal Reserve on monetary policy tightening despite tame inflation data.

Spot gold was down 0.2% to $1,777.03 per ounce by 4.49am, after hitting its lowest since June 21 at $1,770.36 earlier in the session. US gold futures shed 0.2% to $1,774.80.

"The jury's still out [on the Fed's timeline on tapering]," said IG Market analyst Kyle Rodda.

"On one hand, we've to think about normalising policy, but on the other, a lot of Fed speakers are suggesting inflation will be transitory, so we don't need the Fed to slam on the brakes. And, that is kind of sending mixed signals."

FarmFutures - Corn prices lifted substantially higher on a round of bargain buying after falling to multi-month lows late last week. Traders are also expecting so see USDA report much tighter quarterly stocks later this week. July futures climbed 38.75 cents to $6.7525, with September futures rising 26.5 cents to $5.5675. Corn basis bids ticked 2 cents higher at two interior river terminals on Monday and gained 5 cents at two other Midwest locations today while holding steady elsewhere across the central U.S.

Corn export inspections fell to 39.7 million bushels for the week ending June 24. That was below all trade estimates, which ranged between 47.2 million and 66.9 million bushels. China was the No. 1 destination, with 13.2 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2020/21 marketing year remain well ahead of last year's pace, reaching an impressive 2.237 billion bushels. Prior to the next weekly crop progress report from USDA, out later this afternoon, analysts expect to see corn quality ratings firming a point, with 66% of the crop rated in good-to-excellent condition through June 27. Individual estimates ranged between 63% and 67%.

Ahead of the agency's June 30 reports, analysts estimate that USDA will raise its corn acreage estimates from 91.144 million acres in March up to 93.787 million acres. Quarterly grain stock estimates were for 4.144 billion bushels through June 1, which would be well below year-ago totals of 5.003 billion bushels, if realized.

FarmFutures - Wheat prices bounced higher today, anchored by big gains in spring wheat contracts as traders continue to worry over eroding crop quality ratings. Winter wheat prices attracted some technical buying largely spurred by spillover strength from other grains. September Chicago SRW futures added 8.75 cents to $6.4950, September Kansas City HRW futures rose 15.25 cents to $6.2425, and September MGEX spring wheat futures climbed 27 cents to $8.35.

Wheat exports spilled lower from a week ago, moving to 10.5 million bushels. That was also below the entire range of trade guesses, which came in between 14.7 million and 22.0 million bushels. Mexico was the No. 1 destination, with 2.5 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the first three and a half weeks of the 2021/22 marketing year are down 23%, reaching 56.3 million bushels.

Ahead of this afternoon's weekly crop progress report from USDA, analysts expect to see spring wheat quality ratings erode another two points, with 25% rated in good-to-excellent condition. Winter wheat ratings are expected to firm a point higher, in contrast, with 50% rated in good-to-excellent condition. Analysts think harvest progress is 30% complete, up from 17% a week ago.

FarmFutures - Soybean prices followed corn higher on a round of bargain buying today, capturing double-digit gains and moving more than 2% higher by the close. July futures rose 27 cents to $13.5675, with August futures up 32 cents to $13.3475.

Soybean basis bids fell 4 to 5 cents lower at three Midwestern processors and firmed a penny higher at an Illinois river terminal while holding steady elsewhere across the central U.S. today.

Soybean export inspections were almost cut in half compared to a week earlier, falling to 3.8 million bushels. That was also on the very low end of trade estimates, which ranged between 3.7 million and 11.0 million bushels. Mexico accounted for nearly half of the total, with 1.8 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2020/21 marketing year still hold a commanding lead over last year's pace, with 2.101 billion bushels.

Ahead of Monday afternoon's crop progress report from USDA, analysts think the agency will show soybean quality ratings improving a point after widespread rains this past week, with 61% of the crop rated in good-to-excellent condition through June 27. Preliminary volume estimates were for 191,346 contracts, falling moderately short of Friday's final count of 249,603.
