BDLive - The JSE closed firmer as banks and retailers bounced back from Monday's sell-off, while global markets were mixed as Covid-19 remains a threat to economic recovery.

The JSE all share gained the most in four weeks on Tuesday, up 1.12% to 66,548 points and the top 40 rose 1.13%. Retailers gained the most in about a month, up 3.91%. Banks added 2.48%, the most in three weeks, financials 1.92% and industrials 1.67%. Global shares inched back from record highs on Tuesday on concerns about new coronavirus outbreaks in Asia undercutting an economic recovery, while investors remained on edge about the US's exit from accommodative monetary policy.

European stocks, as measured by the pan-European Stoxx 600 index, were up 0.4%, helped by a jump in industrial, financial and mining stocks, sectors set to benefit from economic improvements. Optimism about a steady recovery has put the European benchmark on course for its fifth straight month of gains.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold prices edged lower on Tuesday to hover near a one-week low hit in the previous session, weighed down by a firm dollar and concerns that the US Federal Reserve will tighten its monetary policy sooner than expected. Spot gold was down 0.2% to $1,775.49/oz by 2.55am GMT, after marking its lowest since June 21 at $1,770.36 on Monday. US gold futures fell 0.3% to $1,775.70. ED&F Man Capital Markets analyst Edward Meir said listless trading was seen in the gold market as some market participants were still confused over the Fed's policy outlook.

Several Fed policymakers have turned hawkish despite a weaker-than-expected US inflation reading last week. The Fed has made "substantial further progress" towards its inflation goal to begin tapering asset purchases, Fed Bank of Richmond president Thomas Barkin said.

FarmFutures - Corn prices were mixed as traders continue to monitor weather and await fresh acreage and stocks data from USDA tomorrow morning. July futures climbed 18.5 cents to $6.94, while September futures eased a penny lower to $5.725.

Corn basis bids were steady to mixed Tuesday, moving as much as 7 cents higher at an Illinois river terminal while sliding as much as 2 cents lower at an Iowa ethanol plant today. Yesterday's crop progress report from USDA showed corn quality ratings facing a one-point dip from a week earlier, with 64% rated in good-to-excellent condition through June 27. Analysts thought the agency would raise ratings by a point, in contrast. Physiologically, 4% of the crop has reached the silking stage, versus the prior five-year average of 6%. The European Commission reports that 2020/21 EU corn imports reached 565.3 million bushels through Sunday, which is a year-over-year decline of around 27%.

South Africa's Crop Estimates Committee is anticipating corn production will rise 6% for the 2020/21 season, based largely on favorable weather conditions. Production is expected to top 639 million bushels. If realized, that would be South Africa's second-largest corn harvest on record. China's state grain stockpiler Sinograin announced today it will sell another 6.1 million bushels of corn that had originally been imported from the United States and Ukraine in two upcoming auctions. There have been three similar auctions recently as China attempts to quell high prices and tight domestic supplies. Iran issued an international tender to purchase 2.4 million bushels of corn from optional origins that closes tomorrow. The grain is for shipment in August and September.

Preliminary volume estimates were for 322,103 contracts, inching slightly below Monday's final count of 327,790.

FarmFutures - Wheat prices faded after a round of profit-taking and technical selling today, although losses showed quite a bit of variability, ranging between 0.04% and 2.85%. Spring wheat contracts faced the worst of the brunt, with September futures falling 19.75 cents to $8.1425. September Chicago SRW futures dropped 6 cents to $6.4550, meantime, with September Kansas City HRW futures easing 1.5 cents to $6.2525.

Winter wheat crop quality dropped a point this past week, with 48% now rated in good-to-excellent condition. Harvest pace has reached 30%, up from 17% a week ago and still well behind the prior five-year average of 40%.

Spring wheat crop quality tumbled seven points lower, with just 20% now rated in good-to-excellent condition. Analysts thought USDA would dock quality two points in its latest report, out Monday afternoon. Another 41% is rated fair, with the remaining 39% rated poor or very poor. Nearly half (48%) is headed, versus the prior five-year average of 39%.

Russian consultancy IKAR again raised its forecast for the country's 2021 wheat production, now at 3.072 billion bushels. IKAR anticipates Russian wheat exports will reach 1.433 billion bushels. Russia is the world's top wheat exporter.

FarmFutures - Soybean prices saw fractional gains after a choppy session Tuesday as traders finished squaring positions ahead of tomorrow morning's highly anticipated acreage and grain stocks report from USDA. July futures tipped half a penny higher, to $13.5750, while August futures held steady at $13.3675.

Soybean basis bids were mostly steady across the central U.S. Tuesday but did tilt 2 cents higher at an Ohio elevator and an Illinois river terminal today.

In USDA's latest crop progress report, out Monday afternoon, the agency kept its good-to-excellent ratings for soybeans steady, at 60%. Analysts were expecting to see a one-point improvement. Physiologically, 96% of the crop is emerged through June 27, and 14% is blooming, which is ahead of the prior five-year average of 11%.

Brazil's Anec predicts the country's June soybean exports will total 376.6 million bushels, which is slightly below its estimate from a week earlier. Anec also expects to see Brazilian soy meal exports reach 2.025 million metric tons this month.

Iran issued an international tender to purchase 60,000 metric tons of soy meal from optional origins that closes tomorrow. The grain is for shipment in August and September.
