BDLive - After being a little weaker in early trade the rand slumped the most in two weeks in the late afternoon after US unemployment data came in better than expected.

US jobless claims fell to their lowest in 15 months last week, data on Thursday showed, with analysts now keenly awaiting one of the country's key employment metrics, nonfarm payrolls, due out on Friday at 2.30pm SA time. Consensus is for non-agriculture jobs to have risen by 700,000 in June, according to a Trading Economics poll. Asian stock markets made a subdued start to the second half of 2021 on Thursday, weighed by worries about new coronavirus infections and fresh lockdowns, while bond and currency markets were on edge ahead of US labour data.

Japan's Nikkei was 0.3% lower while MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan fell 0.2% in thin trade as Hong Kong markets were shut for a holiday.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold rose on Thursday as concerns over the more infectious Delta variant of Covid-19 boosted its safe-haven appeal, ahead of US jobs data seen as crucial to the US Federal Reserve's policy outlook.

Spot gold was up 0.3% at $1,775.52/oz as of 3.28am GMT, moving further away from an over two-month low hit on Tuesday. US gold futures gained 0.1% to $1,774.10.

While the market is concerned about rate hikes going into the nonfarm payrolls data, the spread of the Delta variant globally is supporting gold prices, said Stephen Innes, managing partner at SPI Asset Management.

FarmFutures - Corn prices tested double-digit gains overnight and early in Thursday's session until a round of technical selling and profit-taking mostly evaporated them by the close. July futures held steady at $7.20, while September futures picked up 1.75 cents to $6.01. Corn basis bids were steady to week Thursday after dropping 3 to 10 cents lower across multiple Midwestern locations today.

Corn exports were massively disappointing this past week after only capturing 590,000 bushels of old crop sales and 2.7 million bushels of new crop sales for a total of 3.3 million bushels. That was on the very low end of trade estimates, which ranged between 2.0 million and 41.3 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2020/21 marketing year are still more than 800 million bushels above last year's pace, reaching 2.260 billion bushels.

Corn export shipments slumped 36% below the prior four-week average, to 44.7 million bushels. China and Japan were the top two destinations, each accounting for approximately 13.2 million bushels.

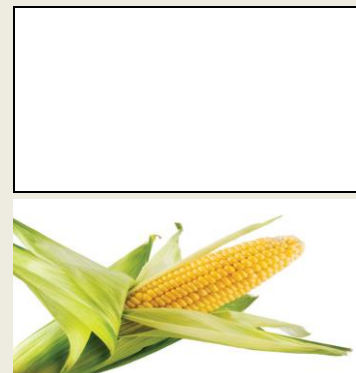

Ukraine could see a bumper grain crop and possibly even rewrite the country's record-breaking effort from 2019, according to state weather forecasters earlier this week. That includes an estimated corn production of 1.461 billion bushels. Ukraine's corn exports so far in the 2020/21 marketing year are at 925.2 million bushels. Preliminary volume estimates were for 399,324 contracts, tracking significantly lower than Wednesday's final count of 551,063.

FarmFutures - Wheat prices sputtered after a round of technical selling Thursday that left some prices down as much as 3% by the close. A disappointing round of export data from USDA this morning was partly to blame, and some profit-taking inflicted additional damage. September Chicago SRW futures fell 13 cents to $6.6650, September Kansas City HRW futures lost 20.5 cents to $6.3850, and September MGEX spring wheat futures dropped 12.75 cents to $8.37. Wheat export sales reached 8.3 million bushels this past week. That was toward the lower end of trade guesses, which ranged between 7.3 million and 18.4 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2021/22 marketing year remain off to a relatively slow start versus last year's pace, with 42.7 million bushels since June 1.

Wheat export shipments only reached 5.0 million bushels last week. The top five destinations were Mexico, Nigeria, Japan, Jamaica and Guyana. Russian consultancy SovEcon raised its estimates for 2021/22 wheat exports by 4.9% to reach 1.411 billion bushels. The move is largely due to Russia's increased production potential, which is now estimated at 3.109 billion bushels. Preliminary volume estimates were for 140,885 CBOT contracts, trending a bit below Wednesday's final count of 153,777.

FarmFutures - Soybean prices sputtered today on a round of technical selling and profit-taking. Prices started the session with double-digit overnight gains but finished slightly in the red by the close. July futures dropped 4 cents to $14.46, while August futures slipped a penny lower to $14.29.

Soybean basis bids were largely steady across the central U.S. Thursday but did tilt 2 to 6 cents higher at two interior river terminals and 5 cents higher at an Indiana processor today.

Old and new crop soybean sales last week totaled 64.8 million bushels, making it to the higher end of trade estimates that ranged between 33.1 million and 84.5 million bushels. Last week's big increase was reflective of recent flash sales announced to China and unknown destinations. Cumulative totals for the 2020/21 marketing year remain far ahead of last year's pace, with 2.136 billion bushels.

Soybean export shipments spilled 33% below the prior four-week average, in contrast, with just 5.5 million bushels. Mexico accounted for nearly half of that total, with 2.6 million bushels. Preliminary volume estimates were for 202,535 contracts, sliding moderately below Wednesday's final count of 264,722.
