BDLive - The rand gained the most in four weeks on Friday, firming along with other emerging market currencies, while the JSE rebounded as global markets gained after the previous session's sell-off.

Calm returned to the markets after a new round of sanctions against Russia for its invasion of Ukraine was announced by the US, Europe, and the UK. Sanctions have fallen short of being imposed on oil and aluminium, as well as access to the Swift banking system, for now. European stocks rose on Friday after Wall Street's dramatic late rally, as investors welcomed co-ordinated Western sanctions against Russia that targets its banks but leaves its energy sector largely untouched.

Oil prices initially fell back sharply but were back above $100 a barrel in early European trading.

BDLive - As investors watch the escalation of conflict closely in the Russian invasion of Ukraine, gold stocks may seem attractive given the recent surge in the gold price. However, analysts advise proceeding with caution.

Gold has long been seen as one of the safest assets in times of uncertainty while also acting as a hedge against inflation. Gold companies are cash flush and have been paying dividends as they benefited from the opening up of economies after the Covid-19 pandemic, inflation worries and heightened geopolitical tensions in Europe.

FarmProgress - Corn prices were hammered along with other grain prices as traders spent Friday's session in an attitude of correction after fears of being overbought in moves earlier this week. March futures lost 35 cents to $6.60, with May futures down 34.75 cents to $6.5550.

Corn basis bids were steady to weak after tilting 4 to 6 cents lower across three Midwestern locations on Friday.

Total corn export sales for the week ending February 17 reached 45.6 million bushels. Old crop sales trended 27% higher week-over-week and inched 4% above the prior four-week average. Sales were also on the high end of analyst estimates, which ranged between 19.7 million and 47.2 million bushels. Cumulative sales for the 2021/22 marketing year have finally caught up to and now slightly exceed last year's pace, with 953.4 million bushels.

Corn export shipments climbed to a marketing-year high of 74.3 million bushels. China was the top destination, with 21.9 million bushels. Japan, Mexico, Canada and Guatemala rounded out the top five. Taiwan passed on multiple offers in its international tender to purchase 2.6 million bushels of animal feed corn, which closed earlier today. After prices spiked earlier in the week, European traders speculated that some Asian importers will delay purchases unless red-hot prices continue to cool off.

Preliminary volume estimates were for 541,736 contracts, down from Thursday's atypically large tally of 866,454.

FarmProgress - Wheat prices were slashed on a round of technical selling and profit-taking as fears over supply disruptions in the Black Sea region eased somewhat, turning to fears that traders were holding an overbought position. Some contracts lost more than 8% by the close. March Chicago SRW futures fell 80.25 cents to $8.4575, March Kansas City HRW futures fell 74 cents to $8.89, and March MGEX spring wheat futures fell 70.5 cents to $9.5950. Old crop wheat sales jumped noticeably higher for the week ending February 17, with 19.0 million bushels. New crop sales added another 6.2 million bushels, for a total of 25.2 million bushels. That bested the entire range of analyst estimates, which came in between 3.7 million and 20.2 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2021/22 marketing year are still tracking around 125 million bushels behind last year's pace, with a total of 506.4 million bushels so far. Wheat export shipments jumped 42% above the prior four-week average to 20.1 million bushels. Japan topped all destinations, with 3.3 million bushels. Nigeria, Mexico, Taiwan and South Korea rounded out the top five.

French farm office FranceAgriMer estimates that 93% of the country's soft wheat crop is rated in good-to-excellent conditions through February 21, dropping two points below the prior week's ratings but still above year-ago ratings of 87%.

FarmProgress - Soybean prices followed other grains lower on a round of technical selling and profit-taking. Losses were severe but still not as bad as what corn and wheat contracts incurred. March futures plummeted 71.75 cents to $15.8975, with May futures down 70.75 cents to $15.8325.

Soybean basis bids were steady to mixed across the central U.S. on Friday, falling as much as 5 cents lower at two Midwestern processors while trending 4 to 5 cents higher at two other locations today.

Private exporters reported two more large soybean sales to USDA on Friday. The first was for 12.3 million bushels for delivery to China during the 2022/23 marketing year, which begins September 1. Private exporters announced the additional sale of 10.5 million bushels to unknown destinations. Of the total, 56% is for delivery during the current marketing year, with the remainder for delivery in 2022/23.

Soybean exports for the week ending February 17 saw combined old and new crop sales reach 77.1 million bushels. That exceeded the entire range of trade guesses, which came in between 34.9 million and 75.3 million bushels. Cumulative totals for the 2021/22 marketing year are still moderately below last year's pace, with 1.471 billion bushels.
