PECAN NUT RISK POOL HAIL INSURANCE

Although hail damage is by no means within your control, managing it is your responsibility. UNIGRO, with SkadeGenade Risk Pool Managers, makes innovative tools available to farmers to reduce costs in the short term, and enables them to farm “self-assured” in the long term.

THE SHORT-TERM STRATEGY

Become part of a UNIGRO and SkadeGenade risk pool. Participating in one of these pools will protect your cash flow as your crops are hedged against hail damage. It will also put you in a position to start working on a long-term strategy, because if there is little hail, you will get your money back. You can do with this money whatever you wish, but it can also form the foundation of your long-term hail risk management strategy.

THE LONG-TERM STRATEGY

Do the calculations yourself. If you could have invested half the money you have spent on crop insurance thus far, you would probably have had a large enough reserve to bear your own hail risk.

KingPrice, in collaboration with SkadeGenade, provides UNIGRO customers with a tool that makes this strategy a reality.

Use the profits from the pool to build your own contingency plan and become less dependent on any form of crop insurance.
